"Oh no I'm going to be late for school," Lilly said as she ran on the sidewalk. "Ow that hurt," she had her shoes off so she could run faster. "Wow what is that," she exclaimed! Up ahead was a beautiful carpet. It was purple with gold lining and green little leaves sown on it. Lilly came up to a man and said "what is that beautiful lovely thing."

"It is a magic carpet," the old ugly man said.

"Magic carpet," Lilly said in a excited way. "How much is it?" she wondered?

"It is free," the man said. "Do you want it?"

"Oh yes sir," she said.

"Well here you go kid," the old man said. "Be careful."

"A magic carpet I will get to school in time," Lilly said relieved. As she got on the magic carpet it took off without a notice. "Wow where am I going?" she said. Then all the suddenly the carpet stopped. It just stopped right there in that dusty spot and didn't do anything.

A few minutes passed and Lilly said "What is wrong with this weird carpet?"

Next the carpet started to go in circles really fast almost 2000 miles per hour. Lilly flung off and the carpet took off and left her.

"Where am I?" Lilly said. She started crying she had no where to go. "Straighten up Lilly," she said to her self.

Finally she stood up and started walking. About three hours past and she realized she was going in circles. "I'll never be home ever again. I guess I will die out here," she said so sadly.

Then out of nowhere the magic carpet appeared. He picked Lilly up and took her to her bedroom and tucked her in bed.

The next day she told her mom about what happened. Then she thought about it. "Was that a dream or not?" she wondered. "I guess I will never know," she thought.

The next night she saw the carpet and knew then the dream wasn't a dream, but an adventure she'll never forget.

Score Point: 6

This response reflects an outstanding degree of proficiency in narrative writing skills. The response is well organized and coherently developed. Dialogue is used effectively to clearly illustrate key ideas ("Wooo, what is that," she exclaimed! and "I'll never be home ever again. I guess I will die out here," she said so sadly.). The response is complete and unified.
